Dear Nordic colleagues.

NFOG has its biannual Nordic Congress in even years and Hot Topics educational meetings in odd years. The Hot Topic meetings are organized by NFOG’s Educational committee. The purpose of these meetings is to focus on new trends and treatments and on topics where controversies can be expected. This is to provide a forum for discussion and debate, where colleagues from different subspecialties within obstetrics and gynecology can participate.

The next Hot Topics meeting takes place in Helsinki on Thursday to Saturday 4.-6. October 2007. The program includes actual and much discussed topics in different areas of our specialty. The speakers are well known clinicians and researchers in the Nordic countries who have been developing and promoting new ideas and methods.

The venue of the meeting is Hotel Kalastajatorppa (Fisherman’s cottage) which is beautifully located by the sea, a few kilometers from the center of Helsinki.

The registration fee is 225 Euros for specialists and 150 Euros for trainees. This covers meeting costs and all meals for the 2 day course, including a welcome buffet on Thursday evening and dinner on Friday evening. Hotel rooms in Hotel Hilton Kalastajatorppa are prebooked until 3rd August 2007 for the reduced price of 140 Euros single / 190 Euros double occupancy per night. Details concerning registration will be available on NFOG’s homepage: http://nfog.org, or from any of the members of the educational committee and also from a secretary at: annahaar@landspitali.is. Early registration is recommended because the total number of participants may be have to be limited and reduced hotel prices can only be guaranteed until 3rd August 2007.

On behalf of the Educational committee of NFOG, we welcome both junior and senior doctors to the Hot Topics meeting in Kalastajatorppa, Helsinki 4.-6. October 2007.
